

World Youth Day was such a great experience for me. I became closer to God in ways I didn't think were possible. I was able to see the Pope up close and it gave me hope that God was really there with us.

The thing that opened my eyes a lot was the Stations of the Cross; it showed me how much God put his only son Jesus on Earth to die for our sins. It shows me that one person carried a cross and he needed help because it was heavy. Do we either give up or do we keep striving to do our very best like Jesus did?

It was a great time to praise and celebrate our faith.
